

Research Tutor – PsychD in Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy

Hours: Part-time (Half-day, i.e. three and a half hours per week – including Tuesday mornings during term-time, and/or some block teaching)

Salary: £35,000 to £36,500 per annum FTE depending on experience, plus 6% contributory pension scheme

The Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families supports distressed children and their families through innovative therapeutic practice and research, training and promoting awareness of mental health issues. In April 2019, the Centre opened its new Centre of Excellence located in King’s Cross.

The Centre values diversity and aims to have a workforce that reflects this. We encourage applications from all sections of the community.

About the course

The PsychD in Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy (the Independent Training) is a four-year full-time, highly selective professional doctorate. The course aims to develop the academic, clinical and research skills needed to practice as a professional Child and Adolescent Psychotherapist. Completion of the doctorate leads to professional membership of the Association of Child Psychotherapists (ACP). Teaching is offered in a small group setting.

Purpose of the post

The Research Tutor post offers an opportunity for someone to join a small team of experienced academic supervisors and work collaboratively in teaching, supervising and supporting students in completing their PsychD research theses. This will entail some combination of providing small-group seminar teaching, and assisting individual students in the process of devising, conducting, analysing and writing-up their research projects, which are mostly worked on across years two and three of the course.

Location

The Centre has moved to a hybrid model of working (a mixture of onsite and home/remote working). The course takes a blended learning approach to teaching, and it is anticipated that the majority of teaching and supervision will be provided remotely (online), although some will be provided through face-to-face contact with students. Generally, staff are working onsite for at least 40% of their working hours at the Anna Freud Centre in King’s Cross (4-8 Rodney Street, London N1 9JH).
