

Queen Mary
University of London

MSc Creative Arts and Mental Health

www.qmul.ac.uk/postgraduate

MSc Creative Arts and Mental Health

An innovative and dynamic course for education professionals, artists, scholars, and mental health practitioners

MSc/PG Dip One year full-time, two years part-time

The MSc offers you the opportunity to learn in detail, from both arts and science perspectives, how art and performance can be used to think critically about and engage the public with concepts and experiences of mental health and the mental health system.

Queen Mary University of London

- A Russell Group university
- A world top 100 university

The Department of Drama

- Number one drama department in the UK (REF 2014)
- Consistently rated in the top two drama programmes in the UK on a variety of league tables
- World-renowned artists and scholars who have won prizes for their research, editing and performance practice.

This unique MSc in Creative Arts and Mental Health is jointly run by the Centre for Psychiatry and the Department of Drama. The MSc offers an interdisciplinary approach to knowledge and research into mental health, with a particular emphasis on theatre and performance in the creative arts.

We cover the history, theory, and practice of performance in relations to all aspects of mental health promotion and the prevention and treatment of mental illness.

This specialised programme gives you the chance to reinvigorate your work, expand your knowledge base, fill gaps in your training and meet a variety of other professionals working in related fields.

Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry

- A leading UK medical school
- The Centre for Psychiatry ranked 5th in the UK for research outputs assessed to be of the highest quality (REF 2014)
- The Centre for Psychiatry is a World Health Organisation collaborating centre

Apply now for
September
2016

[www.qmul.ac.uk/
postgraduate](http://www.qmul.ac.uk/postgraduate)

Queen Mary
University of London

For further information contact: MSc Business Administrator
Wolfson Institute of Preventive Medicine
Tel: +44 (0)20 7882 2038
email: rehana.patel@qmul.ac.uk
www.qmul.ac.uk/postgraduate

Apply now for September 2016

www.qmul.ac.uk/postgraduate